Two recovering addicts attend ~~the~~ the business meeting & do the service work for the group.

Even though the group conscience is announced every week, & even though the average meeting attendance is about 10-12, the business meeting attendance is almost always 2.

We discussed what might happen if one of the 2 trusted servants relocated out of state (for a new job) - would it be fair or healthy for just one recovering addict to maintain a meetings

We practice gratitude for what we have today & more will be revealed.
